

Professor Christopher Findlay

Emeritus Professor of University of Adelaide &
Honorary Professor of Australian National University

Professor Christopher Findlay is an Honorary Professor in the Crawford School of Public Policy at the Australian National University and Emeritus Professor at the University of Adelaide. Professor Findlay has been a part-time Commissioner in the South Australian Productivity Commission since May 2019. He is a member of the Australian Pacific Economic Cooperation Committee, part of the Pacific Economic Cooperation Council (PECC) whose Secretariat is located in Singapore.

Professor Findlay's research interests include Australia's economic relationships with Asia, especially in the services sector.

Educational Qualifications

- PhD in Economics, Australian National University (1982)

Professional Qualifications & Experience

- Executive Dean, Faculty of Professions at the University of Adelaide (2011 – 2018)
- Board Member, Ngee Ann Adelaide Education Centre in Singapore (2012 – 2016)
- Board Chair, Ngee Ann Adelaide Education Centre in Singapore (2015)
- Academic Board Chair, University of Adelaide (2009 – 2012)
- Head of School of Economics, University of Adelaide (2005 – 2011)
- Professor of Economics, Asia Pacific School of Economics and Government, Australian National University (1999 – 2005)